GETTING HERE & AROUND

TRAVELLING TO UTAH

Utah is accessible to the world via Salt Lake City International Airport (SLC). Salt Lake City is the best place to begin your trip if you want to understand Utah’s culture, history and local flavours — and see the towering mountains overlooking the city. Travellers can also fly into Las Vegas’ Harry Reid International Airport for slightly closer access to Southern Utah sites, including a 2.5-hour drive to Zion National Park, St. George and Kanab.

TRAVELLING AROUND UTAH

With 28 scenic byways and endless beauty, Utah is the premier road trip state. When possible, leave the interstate to slow down and explore these roads. While a rental car or motorhome will give you the most control, there are also shuttles and group tours. Public transit is available in the Wasatch Front urban corridor of Northern Utah for travellers wanting to explore or traverse the city.

It takes time to travel between major locations. Taking advantage of the scenic byways offers local scenery, welcoming small towns and off-the-beaten-track attractions. See page 44 for some of Utah’s best scenic routes.

KILOMETRES

An aerial photograph of Salt Lake City, Utah, showing a mix of modern skyscrapers and historic architecture. The city is nestled at the base of the Wasatch-Catchewash mountain range, with snow-capped peaks visible in the distance under a bright blue sky with scattered white clouds. The foreground shows green spaces and residential areas with trees displaying autumn foliage.

Salt Lake City & Beyond

Salt Lake City is the urban heart of Northern Utah's vibrant Wasatch Front. A city known equally for its thriving downtown and its backyard mountain range, Salt Lake City offers cosmopolitan amenities in an easy-to-navigate urban setting. The city is just a stone's throw from hundreds of kilometres of trails for hiking, running and exploring and a dozen ski resorts, including 10 within an hour's drive from Salt Lake City International Airport. Utah's five national parks are an average of four hours away by car. In short, by marrying the best of urban attractions and outdoor adventures, Salt Lake City is both a travel destination itself and the jumping-off point for many Utah vacations.

FIND YOUR WAY

Historic Temple Square, located at Main Street and South Temple Street, is the point of origin for the four quadrants of the Salt Lake City street grid system. From Temple Square, major streets count up in increments of 100. State Street (100 East) is a primary artery running the full length of the valley beginning on Capitol Hill.

Locals frequently abbreviate street names, so you'll hear 1300 South, 500 East spoken as "13th south, fifth east." Popular neighbourhoods just outside downtown include the Avenues, University, Liberty Wells, 9th and 9th, 15th and 15th and Sugar House. Each district has a unique character and features local shops, theatres, restaurants and bars worth seeking out.

HERITAGE & RELIGION

Settled in 1847, Salt Lake is a relatively young city, and its heritage remains strong. In fact, Salt Lake City's most popular attraction is the 35-acre Temple Square, which is currently undergoing impressive renovations and is anticipated to reopen in spring of 2027. This beautiful downtown site is the spiritual centre for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and offers free walking tours in forty languages, extensive genealogy, great dining and frequent performances of The Tabernacle Choir at Temple Square. This Is the Place Heritage Park brings to life Utah's Mormon and native history and marks the end of the 2,092 kilometre Mormon Trail.

URBAN & MODERN

Great holidays go hand in hand with great food and drink. Salt Lake has award-winning micro breweries like Proper, Uinta and Red Rock, distilleries like Sugar House and Beehive and skilled mixologists at hip downtown spaces like Cosmica, The Rest, Whiskey Street or actor Ty Burrell's Bar-X and Beer Bar, to pair with your dinner. Caputo's Market & Deli and Liberty Heights Fresh offer the best in local artisan food like Creminelli Fine Meats and Hatch Family Chocolates.

Evenings bring out the best cultural attractions at performing arts and music venues including Broadway at the Eccles Theatre. Award-winning productions by Ballet West, the Utah Symphony & Opera and Pioneer Theatre Company provide an international flair. Read more about Utah's performing arts and theatre on page 40.

Catch national and local acts headlining downtown venues like the Urban Lounge, The Depot and The State Room and at multiple outdoor summer concert series.

Salt Lake, Utah

Where Mountains and City Meet!

Salt Lake combines outdoor adventure and city life. The Wasatch Mountains rise beside downtown, so visitors can enjoy both nature and culture in one trip. Four ski resorts are just 30 minutes away, wildlife and trails are close, and Broadway shows, concerts, and local dining fill the evenings. Each season brings something new, from powder skiing to canyon hikes.

Travel is simple: Salt Lake City International Airport is Delta's fourth-largest hub, 15 minutes from downtown, with direct flights from nearly 100 destinations. Ski the "Greatest Snow on Earth®," visit Temple Square, the Natural History Museum, or Antelope Island's bison and Dark Sky park. Explore neighbourhoods, chef-driven dining, family attractions, and Olympic venues. Salt Lake is also a gateway to Yellowstone, Arches, and more—where every day can be both a mountain day and a city night.

EXPLORE THE CORRIDOR

HISTORY MEETS THE STARS—CARBON COUNTY, UTAH

In Utah's Carbon Corridor, the past and the cosmos meet in unforgettable ways. This is the American West where stories endure—in stone, in culture, and in the night sky above.

At Nine Mile Canyon, known as the world's longest art gallery, more than 10,000 Fremont petroglyphs trace hunts, rituals, and timeless narratives onto canyon walls. At the USU Eastern Prehistoric Museum, step even deeper back in time—standing face-to-face with Ice Age giants, towering dinosaurs, and artefacts that illuminate human history.

In Helper, a railroad town reborn through creativity, the Helper Museum preserves layers of immigrant stories, industry, and community. By day, galleries and music fill its historic streets; by night, its official Dark Sky designation ensures that the stars shine as brightly as its past.

Steve Maxfield

Here, travel slows to a rhythm of reflection—where ancient art, living history, and boundless skies invite you to look back, look up, and belong. And no matter where your journey begins, the stars above Carbon County will feel like home.

NORTHERN UTAH

UTAH COUNTY

Provo and Orem, at the southern end of the Wasatch Front, offer easy access to Sundance Mountain Resort as well as Provo Canyon's fly fishing, hiking and skiing. Take a 2.4-kilometre hike up 325 metres to explore Timpanogos Cave National Monument, just south of Salt Lake City. With stalactites, stalagmites, "draperies" and countless other geological formations, Timpanogos offers a one-of-a-kind experience that's worth the effort.

The walkable Center Street in Provo presents an array of ultra-compact local shopping, dining and entertainment, unlike almost any other town. There are more than 50 local restaurants and shops across a wide range of international experiences and flavours, and none of them are chain establishments.

NORTH OF SALT LAKE

The mountains meet Main Street in charming Logan, where visitors can experience world-class arts performances and excellent hiking and biking in Logan Canyon within a 10-minute drive. Step back in time at the American West Heritage Center or taste regional specialties on the self-guided Foodie Trek.

Historic Ogden offers visitors a burgeoning downtown nightlife. Settled by mountain men before the Mormons arrived in Salt Lake City, Ogden prides itself on feeling a little set apart from the rest of Utah. This is the place to find locally roasted coffee, craft breweries, farm-to-table cuisine and extensive recreation, including Weber River tubing, a restored urban river waterfront and world-class ski resorts a short distance away.

Davis County offers a memorable and easily accessible blend of fun and adventure. Explore the bison-filled landscape of Antelope Island State Park on the Great Salt Lake, ride roller coasters at Lagoon, one of the most beloved amusement parks in the west and take a stroll through the Hill Aerospace Museum in Weber County where Cold War-era bombers loom overhead.

WASATCH BACK

Take in a view of "Utah's Alps" from the Heber Valley. Between the destination towns of Heber and Midway, Heber Valley astonishes with its alpine splendour and access to endless outdoor recreation. Exclusive resorts, authentic dining and world-class golf round out the valley's extensive list of incredible accommodations and its vast trail network, which means your Heber Valley sanctuary can be built on luxury, outdoor recreation, historical charm or a combination of it all.

National Parks & Outdoor Recreation

Access to Utah's parks and great outdoors is within 30 minutes of the Salt Lake City International Airport. In Northern Utah, visitors can find national forests and monuments that cross high-alpine vistas, tranquil lakes, mountain ranges and hidden caverns. Head south and soon find yourself on the astonishingly scenic drives that mark the way for visitors to The Mighty 5® national parks and all the unexpected national monuments, national forests, towns, state parks and scenic lands that fill the space in between.

ACTIVITIES

Keep in mind, visiting Utah is about so much more than recreation. It's about soul-awakening adventures. Help preserve Utah forever by travelling responsibly. That means planning ahead, leaving no trace in the outdoors, supporting local and slowing down to fully appreciate all that is around you.

RAFTING

Rafting a river can take you to some of the most remote places on Earth, filled with the darkest star-filled skies anywhere. Most of these river runs also include numerous opportunities for hikes to petroglyphs, pictographs and other reminders of Utah's ancient cultures. Some of the most famous runs include the wild whitewater of Westwater and Cataract Canyons (class IV-V) on the Colorado River, the Gates of Lodore and Desolation Canyon (class III-IV) on the Green River, and the Upper and Lower stretches (class III) of the San Juan River.

San Juan River | Michelle Craig

CANYONEERING

From the deep canyons of The Mighty 5® to the desert slots of the Grand Staircase–Escalante National Monument, the state is tailor-made for both serious canyoneers and guide-accompanied novices alike. Utah has the highest concentration of slot canyons in the world, which means explorers can never run out of incredible desert terrain. Canyoneering is a serious endeavour and often highly technical, but local guides and outfitters can lead you down a trail that's perfect for your level of adventure.

Yankee Doodle Canyon | Tyson Rider

HIKING

From family-friendly trails to more challenging climbs, Utah is made for hiking. The Mighty 5® National Parks offer countless trails through the region's iconic red rock landscape. Multiple national monuments, national recreation areas, national forests and state parks also blanket the state providing ample hiking opportunities outside of The Mighty 5®.

Uinta Mountains | Matt Hage

WATER SPORTS

Though famous for its scenic desert vistas, Utah also ranks among the top 10 in the United States for surface area of boatable waters. The state's rivers, lakes and reservoirs offer world-class water recreation. Rent a houseboat and cruise the Lake Powell oasis. Go fly fishing in the Green River. Swim, sail and waterski the turquoise waters of Bear Lake. Or take a heart-pounding whitewater rafting trip down the Colorado River through Cataract Canyon.

Lake Powell | Ryan Salm

MOUNTAIN BIKING

For mountain bikers, all trails lead to Utah. The challenging climbs and descents of its slickrock trails helped put Moab on the map. But Moab is just the beginning. Travellers to Bryce Canyon and Zion national parks should plan to visit nearby Thunder Mountain and Gooseberry Mesa. For a mountaintop biking adventure, head to Park City – America's only International Mountain Bicycling Association-Certified Gold Level mountain biking city – or travel the single-track Wasatch Crest Trail near Salt Lake City and the many sections of the Bonneville Shoreline Trail in Salt Lake City and Ogden.

Wire Mesa | Tyson Rider

Delicate Arch, Arches National Park

Arches

A 73,234-acre wonderland of eroded sandstone fins, towers, ribs, gargoyles, hoodoos, balanced rocks and, of course, arches northwest of Moab. The park protects an amazing landscape that includes the largest proliferation of arches in the world. Over 2,000 arches have been catalogued in Arches National Park.

CAMPING – Start your day with the best access to the park’s hiking trails and viewpoints, then wind down as the sun sets behind arches and rock formations. Arches National Park has a single campground within the park and plenty more camping options nearby.

HIKING – Hike the world-famous Delicate Arch trail, see three separate arches on the Windows Primitive Loop or simply soak in one of the many awe-inspiring viewpoints. No matter how you hike, Arches National Park has trails you just can’t miss.

PHOTOGRAPHY – Home to some of the most famous natural formations in the world, the park will have you reaching for your camera at every stop. Explore can’t-miss photo ops when conditions are best and much more.

STARGAZING – After the sun sets and the sandstone has cooled, you can see countless stars set against a pitch black night sky. See the Milky Way like you may never have before in Arches National Park

TOURS – It took millions of years for the park’s arches, hoodoos, towers and fins to take form. Explore the most popular destinations in the park and learn about how they were formed with a guided tour. Stop by the Visitor Center to learn more about ranger-led programmes. Commercial tours within the park are also available from authorised, local outfitters: Adrift Adventures, NAVTEC Expeditions and Moab Scenic Adventures.

WINTER ACTIVITIES – Winter is the park’s quietest season and a perfect time to see the fiery red arches with a soft dusting of white snow. Skip the crowded peak season and embrace a quiet winter hike or scenic drive.

CLIMATE

You’ll typically encounter 18°–30°C temperatures through the spring and autumn, often deep into November, though nights can be up to 17°C cooler. These cooler seasons are highly recommended to avoid crowds. Southeastern Utah gets hot in the summer, and daytime temperatures can exceed 38°C. You can beat the heat by planning ahead and carrying sunscreen and extra water. During the summer, consider exploring in the morning and evening. In winter, enjoy iconic landmarks in solitude. You may need poles and shoe spikes to navigate icy or snowy trails.

COMPLETE YOUR ITINERARY

Start at visitutah.com/arches to learn more about these nearby destinations.

(1) Dead Horse Point State Park | 40 minutes from Arches Visitor Center

Many visitors find the views at Dead Horse Point to be more captivating than the Grand Canyon. A visitor centre and gallery provide a wonderful introduction to the park's geology. There are also mountain biking trails, campsites and reservable yurts.

(2) Green River | 45 minutes from Arches Visitor Center

Green River is the name of a welcoming small town, a lush state park and one of the West's great rivers. Stay in the town of Green River as a base camp for Arches National Park or for a rafting trip on the Green River Daily or other world-class floats. With a rafting guide or permit, take on the Green River's famous Desolation Canyon.

(3) Manti-La Sal National Forest | 1 hour from Moab area

In southeastern Utah, the La Sal and Abajo mountain ranges provide excellent opportunities for remote camping, hiking, biking, fishing, hunting and mountain climbing. They also serve as scenic backdrops to state and national parks throughout the region.

(4) Moab Mountain Biking | Most trails 10–20 minutes from Arches or Moab

The Slickrock Trail of Sand Flats is one of the most famous trails located within a stone's throw of the biking/hiking/off-road mecca known as Moab. But there's biking for days: Magnificent 7, Intrepid, Klondike Bluff and Bar M are just a few of the must-ride trail systems in the area.

(5) Potash-Lower Colorado River Scenic Byway | Junction 1 kilometre south of Arches entrance

Take the 27-kilometre scenic byway down S.R. 279 to access soaring sandstone cliffs, rock climbing, cycling trails, petroglyphs, dinosaur tracks, arches and views of the Colorado River. Popular arches include Bowtie, Corona and Jug Handle.

(6) Upper Colorado River Scenic Byway | Junction 5 minutes south of Arches entrance

Part of the Dinosaur Diamond Prehistoric Highway, the 71-kilometre S.R. 128 accesses trailheads, rafting, renowned hiking and multi-pitch climbing at Fisher Towers and Castle Valley, also popular backdrops for film and TV, from John Wayne to "Westworld."

INSIDER TIPS

1. Arches is far less crowded at sunrise and sunset, and it may be the most striking time to visit. March–October is busy, especially on holidays, weekends and mid-morning.
2. Follow @archesnps on X and Facebook and visit nps.gov/arch for park alerts about current conditions and to view the entrance station webcam.
3. The short Dead Horse Point Mesa Scenic Byway (S.R. 313) connects Moab and Arches to the road's namesake state park and the Island in the Sky district of Canyonlands.

UNDER CANVAS MOAB: GLAMPING

visitutah.com/articles/moab-under-canvas-glamping

Bryce Canyon National Park | Alison Vagnini

Bryce Canyon

This park is an alpine forest with as many red rock hoodoos as trees. Water and wind over millions of years of freezes and thaws have carved into the plateau endless fields of distinctive red rock pillars, called hoodoos, as well as into the park's series of natural amphitheatres. At an elevation of 2,438 and 2,743 metres, there are even opportunities for winter sports like snowshoeing and cross-country skiing.

CAMPING – The striking contrast between red rock and dark green forest scenery lays the foundation for a camping trip that will call you back time and time again. Make a reservation at the park's two established campgrounds to start planning your trip.

HIKING – Explore a network of intertwined hiking trails that wind through high altitude forests and awe-inspiring canyon vistas. Check out The Rim Trail for an easy family hike, or gear up for a backpacking excursion on the Under The Rim Trail.

HORSEBACK RIDING – Something about riding through Bryce Canyon on horseback just feels perfectly right. Explore the park with a guided tour, available to riders of any experience level.

WINTER ACTIVITIES:

PHOTOGRAPHY – When you imagine Utah's national parks, you may not imagine snow covered red rocks. Truth is, that may be when Bryce Canyon's towering cliff walls are most stunning. Find inspiration with local tips about how to get that perfect snow-capped red rock shot.

SKIING – Thanks to an elevation between 2,438 and 2,743 metres, Bryce Canyon is one of few national parks where travellers can spend a day cross country skiing. Explore the Rim Trail, Bristlecone Loop and Paria Ski Loop to get started.

SNOWSHOEING – As the snow covers Bryce Canyon's tall pine trees, a calmness envelopes the park. Gear up with some snowshoes (which are available for rental) and venture into the park's trails for an unforgettable day of hiking.

CLIMATE

Travellers will experience the best of Southern Utah's mountain and desert climates at Bryce Canyon. Summer visitation peaks during July's "monsoon" season where travellers will encounter generally dry, warm weather around 26°C interspersed with dramatic afternoon lightning storms. Night dips into the 0–5°Cs. November–March is the coldest, with temperatures peaking in the 0–5°Cs and freezing at night.

Kodachrome Basin State Park

COMPLETE YOUR ITINERARY

Start at visitutah.com/bryce-canyon to learn more about these nearby destinations.

(1) Anasazi State Park Museum | 1 hour 40 minutes from Bryce Canyon

At the base of the towering 3,353 metre Boulder Mountain, get an up close and personal look into life almost 1,000 years ago. Explore what was once one of the largest Ancestral Puebloan communities west of the Colorado River.

(2) Eagle Point Resort | 1 hour 45 minutes from Bryce Canyon

Eagle Point Resort is best known as a family-friendly ski area with fresh powder, varied runs and great snowshoeing. In the summer, the area offers a respite from the heat among the high elevations of the Tushar Mountains, great for hiking and mountain biking. The Tushar's ridgeline is about a 20-minute hike from the resort. The most dramatic vistas are along the Skyline Trail, a moderate hike from the Big Flat trailhead.

(3) Escalante Petrified Forest State Park | 1 hour from Bryce Canyon

Discover the kaleidoscopic colours of fossilised, pre-historic wood alongside expansive vistas of the surrounding mountains and Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument. Cool off in idyllic Wide Hollow Reservoir and enjoy great fishing and camping at this state park base camp.

(4) Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument | 30 minutes from Bryce Canyon to the Cannonville Visitor Center

This massive and remote area is packed with outdoor adventure and star-filled night skies. Slot canyons, slickrock and other geologic wonders fill your line of sight while hiking, mountain biking, off-roading and camping. Get help planning at the visitor centres in Big Water, Kanab, Escalante or Cannonville. Check out the 6 kilometre hike to Escalante Natural Bridge.

(5) Kodachrome Basin State Park | 40 minutes from Bryce Canyon

This state park features 67 monolithic stone spires, part of a multicoloured landscape so beautiful it earned the nickname "Kodachrome" after a popular Kodak film. Today, visitors enjoy camping and hiking across 9 square kilometres of photogenic, geologic wonder.

(6) Red Canyon | 20 minutes from Bryce Canyon

This area is one of the most distinctive stretches along the All-American Road: Scenic Byway 12. At one point, the road actually cuts through two tunnels in the red rock. Stop at the interpretive visitor centre to learn about the surrounding Dixie National Forest and all the multi-use trails that wind through red rock hoodoos and vistas.

INSIDER TIPS

1. Navajo Loop to Queens Garden is one of the best 5 kilometre hikes anywhere and solace-seekers should consider the 13 kilometre Fairyland Loop.
2. Bryce Canyon's pristine dark skies mean incredibly starry nights. Sign up early for astronomy programmes. Full moon hikes mean eerily well-lit hoodoos, but don't forget your red light headlamp and jacket.
3. High altitude hiking means sunscreen, hats, long sleeves and extra water. The rim at Bryce Canyon varies from 2,400 to 2,700 metres.

Mesa Arch, Canyonlands National Park | Will Pattiz

Canyonlands

Endless deep canyons, towering mesas, pinnacles, cliffs and spires stretching across 1,365 square kilometres. Canyonlands National Park, formed by the currents and tributaries of Utah's Green and Colorado rivers, is home to many different types of travel experiences.

CAMPING – Amidst the park's canyons you'll find countless places to set up camp. The park houses two established campgrounds, Needles Campground and Willow Flat Campground, as well as numerous backcountry campsites (permits required).

RAFTING – Spend a day or two floating the same rivers that ultimately formed Canyonlands. Venture down the adventurous Cataract Canyon with its Class V rapids, or relax as you float calm waters under impressive cliff sides.

HIKING – Hiking at Canyonlands National Park is a dream come true for day hikers and thru-hikers alike. Head to The Needles district for access to over 112 kilometres of hiking, or bring the family to the awe-inspiring Mesa Arch.

TOURS – With over 1,365 square kilometres of park to explore, knowing what to prioritise can be daunting. Book a trip with a local guide to visit must-see destinations and learn about the park's interesting past.

BACKPACKING – The park is divided into four districts: The Needles, Island in the Sky, The Maze and The Rivers. Each region offers secluded backpacking, incredible views and exciting hikes. Before your trip, be sure to learn more about permits and pack necessities.

WINTER ACTIVITIES – As the largest national park in Utah, Canyonlands provides a variety of winter adventures. Fewer people visit the park in the winter, allowing each visitor to experience more solitude. Take advantage of hiking the quiet trails, photographing landscapes in the soft winter light and stargazing on the longest nights of the year.

CLIMATE

Spring and autumn are ideal seasons to visit Canyonlands with daytime temperatures of 15°–30°C. Like nearby Arches, Canyonlands warms up significantly in the summer months reaching 38+°C. Beat the heat by planning ahead, carrying sunscreen and extra water and playing in the morning and evening during the peak of summer. Temperatures will dip to freezing at night by late November, but winter is an extraordinarily beautiful time in Canyonlands.

Gooseheads State Park | Michael Kunde

COMPLETE YOUR ITINERARY

Start at visitutah.com/canyonlands to learn more about these nearby destinations.

(1) Bears Ears National Monument | Less than 1 hour from Monticello or Bluff

The monument features a broad expanse of red rock, juniper forest, high plateau, cultural, historic and prehistoric legacy that includes an abundance of early human and Native American historical sites, including Newspaper Rock and House on Fire.

(2) Edge of the Cedars State Park Museum | 1 hour 30 minutes from Needles Visitor Center

This museum is a beautiful repository for ancient artefacts in the Four Corners region. The exhibits and on-site kiva showcase Ancestral Puebloan culture along with contemporary Native American items and the largest display of artefacts in the area.

(3) Gooseheads State Park | 30 minutes from Monument Valley

Look down upon the San Juan River 300 metres below you and see the results of 300 million years of erosion. It's worth lingering for the sunset. From this primitive state park, you can see the famous gooseheads and also enjoy a picnic and a campsite with great views.

(4) Hovenweep National Monument | 2 hours 15 minutes from Needles Visitor Center

In a stark and beautiful landscape of sage and juniper, explore the astonishing sites of Hovenweep's six prehistoric villages. In the 13th century, Ancestral Pueblos built towers and other structures, some skillfully balanced on canyon rims.

(5) Monument Valley Navajo Tribal Park | 2 hours 30 minutes from Needles Visitor Center

The iconic symbol of the American West and sacred heart of the Navajo Nation will feel familiar to fans of Hollywood as your Navajo guide escorts you through the park — the best way to experience it. Please respect tribal customs.

(6) Natural Bridges National Monument | 2 hours 15 minutes from Needles Visitor Center

Discover three majestic bridges carved by water and time including Sipapu ("place of emergence"), the world's second-largest natural bridge. See the bridges from the scenic drive or hike down moderate to difficult trails. Stay late for a star show under some of the nation's darkest skies.

(7) Valley of the Gods and Cedar Mesa | 1 hour from Monument Valley

A number of tall, red, isolated mesas, buttes and cliffs tower above the valley floor and can be seen while driving along Valley of the Gods' 27 kilometre gravel road. Nearby Cedar Mesa's rugged backcountry trails offer adventurers solitude, archaeology and geographic beauty.

INSIDER TIPS

1. Close to Moab, the Island in the Sky is the most visited district, but outside of overlooks and Mesa Arch (especially at sunrise), the scenic, though strenuous, trails are seldom crowded.
2. A permit is required to bike or drive the popular White Rim Trail and for all overnight camping trips in the backcountry.
3. Needles Campground in the Needles district is a great base camp for day hikes into the backcountry, but go prepared: carry extra water and be alert for black bears.
4. The remote Maze District easily occupies three days, plus hours to drive there. Solitude and endless splendour are the rewards for extremely well-prepared, self-sufficient wayfinders.

BACKPACKING IN CANYONLANDS NATIONAL PARK

visitutah.com/articles/backpacking-canyonlands

Fruita Historic District | Austen Diamond Photography

Capitol Reef

While Bryce Canyon and Zion are like encapsulated little fantasy lands of coloured stone and soaring cliffs, the less-visited Capitol Reef is almost like a planet unto itself. Here you get a real feel for what the Earth might have been like before life appeared, when nothing existed but Earth and sky.

CAMPING – As one of Utah's less crowded national parks, there is plenty of camping to choose from. Start your day nestled beside the Fremont River in the lovely Fruita Campground, or explore the two free primitive campgrounds further into the park.

CANYONEERING – Utah is known around the world for its spectacular slot canyons, many of which are found in Capitol Reef. Explore the park's most popular routes, learn about the required permits and prepare for your trip at nps.gov or at a visitors centre in the park.

HIKING – For travellers who find serenity in seclusion, Capitol Reef's sprawling red rock hiking may be tough to beat. There are plenty of hiking trails out of the Fruita area and along the scenic drive to spread out and experience the varied environments of Capitol Reef.

SCENIC DRIVE – At the parks, most beautiful destinations can't be seen from the road. That's not the case at Capitol Reef. Ramble down the 13 kilometre Capitol Reef Scenic Drive for breathtaking viewpoints. The Scenic Drive is a paved road, suitable for passenger vehicles. Beyond the paved road are two dirt spur roads, Grand Wash and Capitol Gorge. These dirt spur roads enter canyons and lead to trailheads and are usually suitable for passenger cars and RVs up to 8 metres in length.

SLOW DOWN – Capitol Reef isn't the type of place that calls for a packed itinerary. Slow down a bit while you're here — visit the Pioneer Register site to see the names of historic miners and settlers, or visit the historic district of Fruita to pick fruit from its orchards.

WINTER ACTIVITIES – Towering red rocks dusted in snow, often set against bright blue skies, welcome winter visitors to Capitol Reef National Park. Skip the summer crowds and bundle up for an unforgettable winter adventure. Soak up incredible views along the park's Scenic Drive, or gear up and head out on a wintry hike. After the sun sets, watch dazzling stars shimmer against a brilliant and crisp night sky.

CLIMATE

You'll experience a combination of mountain and desert climates. From May–October, expect dry, warm weather in the 10°–27°C range, and significant nighttime dips down to the 5°Cs. November–March is the coldest time, with daytime temperatures peaking under 10°C in November, 4°C in January and freezing overnight. Hardy travellers, however, will encounter stunning solitude amid snowcapped monoliths.

Fishlake National Forest | Will Pattiz

COMPLETE YOUR ITINERARY

Start at visitutah.com/capitol-reef to learn more about these nearby destinations.

(1) Cleveland-Lloyd Dinosaur Quarry & Jurassic National Monument | 2 hours 30 minutes from Capitol Reef

At Utah's newest national monument, you'll see the world's densest concentration of dinosaur bones — more than 12,000 discovered so far. It's typically open April–September, but check the hours before you go. The kids will love it, and they get in free.

(2) Fishlake National Forest | 1 hour from Capitol Reef

Enter an outdoor paradise known for its beautiful aspen forests with scenic drives leading to secluded camping, extensive ATV trails and fishing. Highlights include the Paiute ATV Trail and Lakeshore National Recreation Trail, home to the largest tree colony in the world known as Pando.

(3) Fremont Indian State Park and Museum | 1 hour 45 minutes from Capitol Reef

This museum marks the site of one of the largest-known Fremont culture villages. The museum showcases the incredible discovery of this village by a road construction crew, and nearby hiking trails explore the area's petroglyphs and pictographs. You can camp or rent a teepee for an evening beneath pristine dark skies.

(4) Goblin Valley State Park | 1 hour 30 minutes from Capitol Reef

This park's whimsical sandstone landscape captures and stretches the imagination. Bring the family and experience this amazing place by hiking, camping, biking and exploring the surrounding canyons. It is also a certified International Dark Sky Park.

(5) Millsite State Park | 1 hour 45 minutes from Capitol Reef

This quiet reservoir is a great place to boat, fish and camp. There is also an eighteen-hole, public golf course adjacent to the park. Visitors who bring off-highway vehicles or mountain bikes can enjoy kilometres of trails in nearby Ferron Canyon.

(6) San Rafael Swell | 1 hour 45 minutes from Capitol Reef

Starting at the 305 metre Wedge Overlook introduces you to the expansiveness of this area. The view is a bird's-eye perspective of the Little Grand Canyon, a 23 kilometre path cut by the San Rafael River. After the overlook, drive down into the Buckhorn Draw Backway to experience a wealth of petroglyphs, hiking, climbing and peaceful, primitive camping. The southern portion of the Swell is more rugged, but with a map and plenty of fuel you can enjoy remarkable slot canyons. Expect all roads in this area to be unpaved, including several requiring high clearance and four-wheel drive.

INSIDER TIPS

1. In summer and early autumn, fruit can be picked and eaten in the Fruita orchards. A self-pay station is located near the entrance of orchards open for fruit harvest. Definitely stop at the Gifford Homestead for a fresh, local pie.
2. At high desert elevations, drink extra water and don't forget the electrolytes. Start hikes early, protect your skin and take breaks to enjoy the scenery.
3. Capitol Reef is a certified International Dark Sky Park. Fit some stargazing into your itinerary.
4. Connect your visit with Bryce Canyon National Park by driving on the All-American Road: Scenic Byway 12, one of the most beautiful roads in the United States. Plan several days to explore both parks adequately.

Zion National Park | Alison Vagnini

Zion

A 305-metre deep red rock canyon, nested in dramatic surroundings. Whether you are trying to catch your breath while climbing the trail to Observation Point or watching the shadows constantly change the mood of the Court of the Patriarchs, Zion National Park is always ready to quench your appetite for outdoor wonder.

CAMPING – End your day under Zion’s internationally-certified dark skies at any of the campgrounds within or near the park. Dispersed, developed and RV campgrounds are all available, but make your reservation early; campgrounds fill quickly during peak travel months.

CANYONEERING – Looking to add some adrenaline to your vacation? Explore Zion’s most popular canyoneering routes. Be sure to get the details about permits and local guide services ahead of time.

HIKING – Zion is famous for its remarkable hiking trails. Take an adventurous scramble up to Angels Landing or a family hike on the Emerald Pools Trails, among others.

HORSEBACK RIDING – Trot through pine forests and red rock views on a horseback riding tour through the park. Local guides offer rides for every experience level and are available year-round in certain regions of the park.

BACKPACKING – Find your way out of the crowds into the park’s tranquil backcountry. Explore Zion’s backpacking camp areas, kilometres of hiking trails, and preparation resources.

WINTER ACTIVITIES – With more than 300 days of sunshine a year, Zion National Park is a great place to enjoy sunny skies, fresh air and get a little extra Vitamin D in the winter months. Plan a winter visit to soak up the sunshine while enjoying moderate temperatures and a stunning sandstone kaleidoscope of reds, oranges and pinks. Winter visitors will find plenty to do, including hiking, photography and gazing up at the wonders of the night sky.

CLIMATE

May–October visitors will encounter highs in Zion from 30–32+°C. Escape the heat by getting in the river or stopping in the visitor centre or museum. Afternoon thunderstorms occasionally drench the canyon which can lead to flash floods. Expect somewhat cooler temperatures (sometimes up to 17 degree difference) early in the morning and late in the evening, as well as in early spring and late autumn.

Coral Pink Sand Dunes State Park

Lake Powell | Ryan Salm

COMPLETE YOUR ITINERARY

Start at visitutah.com/zion to learn more about these nearby destinations.

(1) Brian Head Resort | 1 hour 30 minutes from Zion

In the winter, pair a trip to Zion National Park with a great ski day. In warmer temperatures, rent a mountain bike and ride around the resort area, or enjoy an evening concert at cooler high-elevation temperatures.

(2) Cedar Breaks National Monument | 1 hour 45 minutes from Zion

Drive at 3,000 metres through the lush Dixie National Forest, where a fairyland amphitheatre of multicoloured limestone strata plunges 600 metres deep into the plateau. Explore hiking trails or camp under the stars in summer and enjoy cross-country skiing in winter.

(3) Coral Pink Sand Dunes State Park | 1 hour from Zion

This park boasts 8 square kilometres of sand open to OHVs (Off Highway Vehicles). It's the only major sand dune field on the Colorado Plateau, and great for OHV enthusiasts, hikers, sand boarders and families in search of a unique site.

(4) Dixie National Forest | 45 minutes from Zion to Red Cliffs

Hike in Pine Valley Recreation Area or Red Cliffs National Conservation Area, bike among the brilliant red spires of Red Canyon, fish at Navajo or Panguitch lakes, tour the east fork of the Sevier River or explore scenic Boulder Mountain. All areas have camping.

(5) Glen Canyon and Lake Powell | 1 hour 45 minutes from Zion

Accessed from Wahweap Marina (or Bullfrog Marina from the northeast), this is a 486 square kilometre paradise for houseboaters, kayakers, anglers and photographers. For the most adventurous, Rainbow Bridge National Monument is accessible from Lake Powell (depending on lake level and trail conditions), and is one of the world's largest natural bridges. With a permit, serious trekkers can also backpack to the bridge.

(6) Snow Canyon State Park | 1 hour from Zion

Cut by water, sculpted by wind and time, Snow Canyon's Navajo sandstone cliffs share the same history and geology as Zion and offer hiking, climbing, cycling and camping.

(7) State Park Reservoirs | 45 minutes from Zion

Sand Hollow State Park brings together boating, fishing and off-roading all in one place, with almost 61 square kilometres of perfectly sculpted dunes. Quail Creek State Park has some of the warmest waters in the state and lures boaters and anglers year-round. Both of these, as well as Gunlock State Park, offer great spots to camp in a red rock desert setting.

INSIDER TIPS

1. For the best experience, arrive early. Take the free town shuttle from near your Springdale hotel. Always hike respectfully and carry extra water and sun protection.
2. Personal vehicles are not permitted on the Zion Canyon Scenic Drive during part of the year, typically from March through November. Visit nps.gov/zion/planyourvisit for updated dates and information about the free shuttle system.
3. The distinctive red asphalt of the Zion–Mt. Carmel Highway leads through a narrow 1.8-kilometre tunnel to lesser-known hikes near the East Entrance. Beginning in mid-2026, oversized vehicles will be rerouted from the Zion–Mount Carmel Highway.
4. Follow @zionnps on X and Facebook and visit nps.gov/zion for park alerts.

DINING REGIONS

SALT LAKE CITY

Dining in Salt Lake City has a well-earned reputation for excellence, thanks to its blend of international fare and local specialties from restaurants like Mr. Shabu, Red Iguana, The Copper Onion and more. Many restaurants go beyond traditional cuisine, adding distinct twists that have become a Salt Lake trademark. Funeral potatoes, fry sauce and pastrami burgers are just a few of Utah's contributions to the culinary world. visitutah.com/articles/best-restaurants-in-salt-lake-city

OGDEN

Ogden's restaurant scene is buzzing with flavour and variety, making this frontier mountain town both a foodie and an outdoor destination. The Greatest Snow On Earth®

There are a lot of reasons Utahns love winter. The ski and snow quality. The variety of winter experiences. Getting cozy inside after a day of play. For many, winter in Utah is all about skiing and riding the deep powder, Olympic downhill or precision-engineered terrain parks. Whether you have visions of endless slopes followed by luxurious après ski or a simpler image of quiet snowshoeing across serene snowy landscapes, your winter dreams exist in Utah.

Utah's location at the Crossroads of the West means you have easy access to it all. A quick morning cup of coffee in Salt Lake City and a short drive gets you on the mountains by the afternoon. Ten of Utah's 15 ski resorts are less than an hour from the airport. Stay anywhere along the vibrant Wasatch Front (Salt Lake City, Park City, Provo or Ogden) and you'll find a winter paradise in your own backyard.

Snowbird / Scott Markewitz

UTAH'S SNOW SCIENCE

Utah's combination of geography and the storms that drop their bounty along the eleven ski resorts in the Wasatch Mountains lead many to make the claim that Utah has the best deep-powder skiing and riding in the country. But don't take our word for it. Just look at the accolades from the readers of SKI Magazine, Forbes and others, who annually rank Utah's ski resorts at the top of the class. According to research of snow quality in the Cottonwood Canyons by University of Utah atmospheric scientist Jim Steenburgh, unique climate conditions produce a "just right" frequency and quantity of snow for ideal flotation when skiing and riding Utah's powder.

EASY ACCESS

Salt Lake-area resorts (Solitude, Brighton, Snowbird and Alta) and Park City-area resorts (Park City, Deer Valley and Woodward) are within 45 minutes of Salt Lake City International Airport. Ogden-area resorts (Snowbasin, Powder Mountain and Nordic Valley) are an average of an hour from the airport. The scenic Sundance Mountain Resort in Provo Canyon is just 15 minutes from Provo Airport.

The junctions of I-15, I-80 and I-84 in Northern Utah, combined with Salt Lake's belt route, I-215, mean wide-open avenues right to Utah's best canyons. This layout is also convenient for ski itineraries hitting multiple Utah resorts. TRAX light rail, UTA ski buses and taxi services work together to shuttle visitors without vehicles between downtown and the resorts.

If it's all about the journey, set your sights on Utah's four scenic destination resorts: Cherry Peak and Beaver Mountain in Northern Utah near Logan, or Eagle Point and Brian Head in Southern Utah. Many consider these undiscovered gems worth the drive for the untouched powder, mellow vibe and nonexistent lift lines. For visitors to the southern resorts, air travellers have the quickest access through Las Vegas.

Once you're here, the only real challenge is deciding if you want to stay slope-side or stay in the city. Maybe you want access to the cultural amenities and nightlife of Salt Lake City, Ogden or Provo, or maybe you want to sleep in an extra 20–30 minutes in the morning by staying on the mountain.

WHERE TO STAY

SALT LAKE CITY'S COTTONWOOD CANYONS

Look for extensive slope-side lodging options and an average of 32+ metres of Utah's legendary snow in these canyons. The quality of the ski runs, on-mountain amenities and the proximity of the resorts to downtown define the Salt Lake ski experience. It's easy to catch the first lift in the morning and take in the symphony in the evening. Add in a thriving culinary scene, world-class performing arts, plentiful shopping and off-the-slope activities for the whole family, and you can begin to see why the Salt Lake area has the reputation as the only true "Ski City" in the U.S.

SNOWBIRD SKI RESORT

Snowbird has the longest ski season in Utah. It frequently opens late November or early December and stays open as long as the snowpack allows (usually through late May), and it's not unheard of to ski or ride at Snowbird on the 4th of July. Snowbird's generous season means more time on its 988 metre top-to-bottom vertical and its 10 square kilometres.

SOLITUDE MOUNTAIN RESORT

They say Solitude isn't just a name, it's a promise. Ask a Solitude season pass holder, they'll tell you the mountain resort is a relaxed environment, offers dozens of runs for all levels, has an abundance of hidden powder stashes and offers up plenty of opportunities for skiers and riders to challenge themselves. Up for the challenge? Solitude is an intermediate skier's delight. More than half of the 4.9 square kilometres, 82 runs, 8 lifts and 610 vertical metres are labelled for those in the middle.

ALTA SKI AREA

Nestled near the top of one of Utah's best canyons, Alta is a storied paradise for skiers. Even riders leave their boards at home for a chance at the 10+ square kilometres of Alta's renowned slopes featuring 119 runs.

BRIGHTON SKI RESORT

Brighton has been delighting skiers longer than most resorts in Utah. In 1936, an alpine ski club pulled together their engineering expertise and built a rudimentary rope tow to get folks up the mountain. That basic mission remains the same today: Brighton is just looking to get folks up the mountain to enjoy great skiing and riding. The only difference now is that the full expanse of the resort's well-balanced 4+ square kilometres is accessible from high-speed quads and Utah's fastest chairlift—a six-seater that opened in December 2023.

AREA RESORTS

PARK CITY

Though Historic Main Street has all the look and feel of a cozy mountain town, the Park City area is much larger than many realise. Park City Mountain and Deer Valley are two of the largest ski areas in North America, both boasting over 5,000 skiable acres once the Deer Valley East Village expansion will be completed winter 2026-2027. A seamless extension of the legendary Deer Valley Resort, Deer Valley East Village is the first major public alpine ski resort to be developed in North America in over 40 years. It includes over 3,700 additional skiable acres, 16 new lifts and a new 10-passenger gondola. Park City has more than 100 lodging properties and countless additional home and condo rentals in town or on the slope.

HEBER VALLEY

The serene landscape around Heber and Midway is home to Olympic-caliber cross-country skiing at Soldier Hollow and comfortable Alpine accommodations.

SUNDANCE

Twenty minutes southwest of Heber is the rustic and comfortable Sundance Mountain Resort, nestled beneath one of the most picturesque peaks of the Wasatch Mountain Range, Mount Timpanogos.

OGDEN

This historic and welcoming town has built a mighty reputation as an outdoor recreation mecca, with good reason. You'll find some of the state's best slopes in Ogden's backyard. Powder Mountain is one of North America's largest resorts and offers vast backcountry access. The legendary runs of Snowbasin include the men's and women's downhill from the 2002 Winter Olympics, stunning scenery, terrain parks and beautiful on-mountain facilities. Nordic Valley's expansion is building on Ogden Valley's legacy of incredible skiing and riding. Ogden's walkable downtown is growing, with family amenities like the Treehouse Museum, a thriving restaurant and bar scene and classic buildings from Ogden's history as a boomtown railroad outpost.

CACHE VALLEY

Beaver Mountain Resort sits in the northeast corner of Utah with 3.35 square kilometres of prime mountain terrain that is blanketed annually with 10 metres of The Greatest Snow on Earth®. Though modest in size compared to other Utah resorts, some runs at Beaver Mountain have a length of over 3 kilometres and are just the perfect length for getting into the groove run after run. The northeast exposure makes for some beautiful morning sun as it drenches the neighbouring rural valley. And the ski area offers several terrain parks.

SKI TRAVEL CHECKLIST

Weekends and holidays may be crowded. The Cottonwood Canyons can experience heavy car congestion leading to the resorts.

- ☐ Can you go during a weekday? If you're going on the weekend, have you reviewed canyon alerts and best practices, and are you prepared for a time-consuming journey up Big and Little Cottonwood Canyons? Are you able to take the UTA Ski Bus? Crowds typically thin out around 1 p.m. after lunch.
- ☐ Have you secured all your needed reservations for the right days? See parking information by resort. Different resorts require different types of reservations for lodging, parking and lift passes.
- ☐ In addition to ski jackets, pants, insulating layers and socks, snow gear includes boots, a helmet, goggles, gloves, a hat, sunglasses and a neck gaiter. Check the fit on children from previous years, pack sunscreen, lip balm, tissues and snacks. visitutah.com/welcome-to-winter
- ☐ Make sure you have the right vehicle. If you are planning to access Utah resorts when snow is in the forecast, is your vehicle four-wheel drive and/or equipped with chains or snow tires?
- ☐ Help out our air quality. Can you carpool or take the UTA ski bus to reduce vehicle emissions?
- ☐ Demonstrate respect for the mountain. If you feel the urge to push your boundaries, consider adult ski school or hiring a backcountry guide. And if you find yourself in a crowded lodge, lift line or ski run, remember that anytime you are in a crowd, you are the crowd. Have patience and be considerate of those with whom you are sharing this outdoor space.

Experience Dark Skies

Globally, 83% of people live under light-polluted skies. That is not an issue when stargazing in Utah, but it presents a welcome challenge: do you go to bed early to ensure ample energy for tomorrow's adventures, or stay up late for a chance to peer into light tens of thousands of years old, yet part of the same Universal sea of energy?

Utah has the highest concentration of DarkSky International-certified locations in the world, including communities, parks and protected areas. The great advantage to astrotourism is that it doesn't depend on seasonality. You can see night or dark skies throughout the year. From our northern hemisphere viewpoint, the Milky Way core (or bulge) is always generally south on the horizon. However, the orientation of the galaxy differs throughout the year.

Of course, you'll want to take note of the weather and avoid nights where cloud cover is prevalent or potential storms are on the horizon.

Goblin Valley State Park | Austen Diamond Photography

SUMMER

We see more of the Milky Way, its centre and the highest concentration of stars combining for the most luminous views during the summer. Lying low on the southern horizon is the constellation of Sagittarius, and its brightest stars make a teapot shape, noted Bettymaya Foott (International Dark Sky Association), with the Milky Way rising as steam from the spout.

WINTER

In the winter months, we are looking toward the outside edge of the galaxy, with fewer stars that are less intense and more subtle. Winter is a wonderful time of year to experience stargazing in part because it's kinder to the non-nightowls. There are more hours of darkness as the sun goes down earlier in the day and Utah's typical dry winter air also allows for clearer viewing.

VIEWING THE GALACTIC CORE

The central part of the Milky Way — the galactic core — shines nightly from March to November.

March–May: The galactic core will first become visible a few hours before sunrise.

June–August: View the Milky Way as soon as the sun sets for most of the night.

September–November: The Milky Way will be best seen in the early evening.

November–February: The galaxy core will not be visible in the northern hemisphere.

TIME OF MONTH

Plan your stargazing during a new moon or within three days before or three days after. A new moon occurs when it is located between Earth and the sun. The moon is thus not visible from Earth, resulting in dark skies that are ideal to see the Milky Way and the faintest of celestial objects and phenomenon (details in dustlines of the galaxy, fainter light against a dark background, etc.) Any light from the moon will wash out the night sky.

TIME OF NIGHT

The Milky Way is most clearly seen during true night, after the sun is 18 degrees below the horizon — typically an hour to an hour-and-a-half after sunset. During the northern hemisphere's summer months, that's after 10 p.m. And the longer you stay up, the more intense the sky becomes with stars beaming as the night gets darker.

ARCHES, CANYONLANDS AND DEAD HORSE POINT

During the spring and autumn, rangers from Arches National Park, Canyonlands National Park's Island in the Sky district and Dead Horse Point State Park team up for ranger-led night sky events. Programmes rotate among the three parks and usually occur around the new moon.

BRYCE CANYON NATIONAL PARK

Bryce Canyon offers year-round, ranger-led programmes and an annual Astronomy Festival in June. Some popular programmes (winter snowshoe hikes and full moon hikes) require advance sign-up or are subject to a lottery.

CAPITOL REEF NATIONAL PARK

From late June to October, Capitol Reef offers night sky tours, full moon walks and its annual Heritage Starfest event, featuring telescope viewing and guest speakers.

NATIONAL MONUMENTS

Rangers offer occasional stargazing programmes at Cedar Breaks National Monument, Dinosaur National Monument, Hovenweep National Monument, Natural Bridges National Monument, Rainbow Bridge National Monument and Timpanogos Cave National Monument. Check with the park's Visitor Center for upcoming programmes.

UTAH STATE PARKS

Many Utah state parks have earned the International Dark Sky Park designation, including Dead Horse Point, Antelope Island, Snow Canyon and more. Visitors sticking around after dark can enjoy star parties, astronomy programmes and ranger-led stargazing hikes.

Film, Arts & Heritage

Utah has a variety of art and history museums, as well as a vibrant art, theatre, film and music scene. Many of these artistic and cultural offerings culminate in signature festivals, like the Utah Shakespeare Festival in Cedar City, the Living Traditions Festival in Salt Lake City and the Moab Music Festival. Film, arts and heritage are as much a part of Utah's landscape as our iconic mountains and arches.

Salt Lake City is home to a Broadway theatre, a professional ballet, symphony and opera, alongside multiple theatre companies, dance companies, “America’s choir” and a lively local music community. In the cities, mountains or red rock — we love our music. Many artists call our cities home, drawing on inspiration from the nearby mountains. Smaller, rural communities, such as Helper, Torrey and Spring City, also lure artists to landscapes perfect for plein air painting.

UTAH HERITAGE

Museums touch on a wide range of peoples, inhabitants and histories, including Native American, dinosaur, pioneer, mining, railroad and natural history offerings. While Utah is known for its proud pioneer heritage, the region's human history dates back thousands of years earlier. Visitors can responsibly explore countless reminders of ancient peoples.

Today, evidence of this blend of Indigenous culture and Mormon pioneer heritage abounds throughout Utah's astonishing landscapes. This combined heritage is the foundation for a modern legacy of arts and culture that also includes a thriving Olympic spirit, inspiring earth art and fascinating drives on historic roads and trails.

TEMPLE SQUARE

SALT LAKE CITY

Following renovations, the Salt Lake Temple of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in Temple Square will offer public tours during an open house from April to October 2027. This will be the first opportunity for the general public to access its interior since its dedication in 1893, as the Temple is typically only open to Church members.

ALF ENGEN SKI MUSEUM

PARK CITY

Located within Utah Olympic Park, this museum covers Utah's rich ski heritage over 150 years, from the 1800s through the 2002 Winter Olympic Games.

NATURAL HISTORY MUSEUM OF UTAH

SALT LAKE CITY

This state-of-the-art museum showcases exhibits on prehistoric worlds, gems and minerals, first peoples, the Great Salt Lake (with a view of it!), Native voices, southern Utah geology and more. This museum is like an informational trailhead through Utah and will give context to your Utah travels.

MUSEUM OF UTAH

SALT LAKE CITY

The Museum of Utah opens on the Utah Capitol Complex on June 27, 2026. As Utah's first state history museum, the Museum of Utah celebrates our unique stories, culture and art through world-class exhibits and programming. The museum features four permanent galleries – Becoming Utah, Building Utah, Connecting Utah and Inspiring Utah – each showcasing significant artifacts important to the state's history and culture that have rarely been seen by the public.

Matt Morgan

MUSIC & THEATRE

Music is as much a part of Utah's landscape as our iconic mountains and arches. Salt Lake City is home to a Broadway theatre, a professional ballet, symphony and opera, alongside multiple theatre companies, dance companies, "America's choir" and a lively local music community. In the cities, mountains or red rock — we love our music.

THE TABERNACLE CHOIR AT TEMPLE SQUARE

SALT LAKE CITY

Enjoy free weekly rehearsals by the choir Ronald Reagan once dubbed "America's Choir." Rehearsals take place on Temple Square in the tabernacle building, which is an architectural wonder with renowned acoustics revered among the choral music community. The Tabernacle Choir at Temple Square was formerly known as the Mormon Tabernacle Choir. Check Temple Square's website for a calendar of streaming events.

SHAKESPEARE FESTIVAL

CEDAR CITY

This is one of Utah's more hidden gems — a renowned repertory theatre (they won a Tony) featuring plays by the bard as well as classic and contemporary works in the heart of the state. It is staged on three theatres on the Southern Utah University campus: an outdoor replica of the Globe Theatre, an indoor theatre and an auditorium theatre.

MOAB MUSIC FESTIVAL

MOAB

This festival pairs rich acoustic performances with stunning red rock venues. The venues are unconventional to say the least — one venue is in a secret rock grotto that guests are jet-boated to. For the most adventurous, the festival culminates in a multi-day musical rafting trip down Cataract Canyon.

UTAH SYMPHONY & OPERA

SALT LAKE CITY

The Utah Symphony plays more than 70 concerts a year in the acoustically beautiful Abravanel Hall with the towering Dale Chihuly glass sculpture in the lobby. One of the premier orchestras in the West, it also presents a summer pops programme and accompanies the Utah Opera during its four yearly performances at the Capitol Theater.

ROBERT REDFORD'S SUNDANCE SCENES

During the golden era of Western films, Robert Redford made his leap to true stardom with his masterful portrayal of the Sundance Kid, an original American outlaw, in 1969's "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid." If you want to get to the heart of what Utah film and Redford himself are all about, you'll want to journey into the real heart of the outlaw West. Lay your own eyes on the soaring walls of Zion Canyon. Wander the twists and turns of Snow Canyon. Feel the wind blowing through a real ghost town. Set foot in Jeremiah Johnson's wilderness cabin. Then you'll get a taste of the adventure and wanderlust that inspired Redford the man and the characters he played.

SEE WHERE HIGH SCHOOL MUSICAL WAS BORN

Get a taste of what it would be like to be on film by swinging by East High School, where "High School Musical" was born and the "High School Musical: The Musical: The Series" ("HSMTMTS") was filmed. The cast sang "Stick to the Status Quo" in the cafeteria and Troy led the Wildcats to victory in the gym. Sharpay's locker(s) are even still painted pink to this day.

CLASSIC WESTERNS OF THE SILVER SCREEN

When you picture the American West, chances are you're picturing Utah. From the alpine backwoods of "Jeremiah Johnson" to the sweeping vistas of "Westworld" and all the John Ford films in between, Utah is the place to travel for movie magic. Bring your favourite movie scenes to life when you make a pitstop in Castle Valley, Moab and other iconic film locations.

Travel Scenic Byways

The geographic size of Utah might seem daunting, but time on the road passes quickly when new discoveries punctuate each kilometre travelled. With interstates and airplanes, the world can feel pretty small. On Utah's designated scenic byways, the world feels grand; its horizons seem infinite.

In total, Utah's distinct topography provides the surface for 28 scenic byways, which add up to hundreds of kilometres of vivid travel experiences wherein the road trip is as memorable as the destination. All of Utah's scenic byways are explorative journeys filled with trailheads, scenic overlooks, museums, local flavours and vibrant communities where you can stop for the night or hook up your RV.

NEBO LOOP

THE DRIVE: 51 kilometres | 1.5 hours

Spectacular overlooks, plentiful wildlife and national forest adventure capped with views of 3,636 metre Mount Nebo, the highest peak in the Wasatch.

GETTING THERE

Forest Service Road 015 is a winding drive between Payson and Nephi. Exit I-15 on S.R. 132 from Nephi then begin the climb to 2,848 metres. Closes in winter.

WHAT YOU'LL SEE

- Diverse wildlife and multiple national forest trailheads
- Eroded red sandstone against deep green foliage
- Fields of summer wildflowers and brilliant autumn colours

STOPPING POINTS

- Numerous interpretive sites and scenic overlooks
- Devil's Kitchen Geologic Site and Grotto Falls hikes
- Camping, canoeing and fishing at Payson Lakes

DINOSAUR DIAMOND PREHISTORIC HIGHWAY

THE DRIVE: 800 kilometres | 10 hours

Vast scenery of Utah and Colorado's "Jurassic Park" allows the imagination to travel back to prehistoric times. Interpret multiple active dig areas, museums and other history sites.

GETTING THERE

Access the large diamond-shaped byway from U.S. 40 to Vernal, near Dinosaur National Monument and Flaming Gorge, or on U.S. 6 and I-70 as part of a trip to Arches or Canyonlands.

WHAT YOU'LL SEE

- Wall of Bones, dinosaur quarries and pristine night skies
- Relics of Utah's early Indigenous people
- Arches, towering mesas and fields of slickrock
- Green River and Upper Colorado River Scenic Byway

STOPPING POINTS

- Dinosaur National Monument and Utah Field House in Vernal
- Prehistoric Museum in Price, Cleveland-Lloyd Quarry within the Jurassic National Monument
- Side trip: Little Grand Canyon of the San Rafael Swell, Fisher Towers, Moab and Arches

ALL-AMERICAN ROAD: SCENIC BYWAY 12

THE DRIVE: 200 kilometres | 4+ hours

Breathtaking engineering of the “Hogback” complements exciting sandstone hikes and diverse geography between 1,200 metres and 2,750 metres on one of America's most beautiful drives.

GETTING THERE

Head east at the byway's southwest junction with U.S. 89, toward Bryce Canyon, or south from the northeast junction with S.R. 24 between Torrey and Capitol Reef National Park.

WHAT YOU'LL SEE

- Slickrock canyons, towering plateaus and unique red rock
- Grand Staircase–Escalante National Monument
- Contrasting juniper, pine and aspen of Dixie National Forest
- Deep Ancestral Puebloan heritage and welcoming pioneer towns

STOPPING POINTS

- Red Canyon and Bryce Canyon National Park
- Kodachrome Basin and Escalante Petrified Forest state parks
- Calf Creek Falls hike, Kiva Koffeehouse and Escalante Outfitters
- Boulder Mountain, Hell's Backbone Grill and Burr Trail

LOGAN CANYON

THE DRIVE: 66 kilometres | 1 hour

On the way to a 2,377 metre summit, craggy limestone cliffs line the Logan River and Uinta-Wasatch-Cache National Forest recreation that includes hiking, flyfishing, climbing and snowmobiling.

GETTING THERE

Travel historic U.S. 89 from the lush Cache Valley to the Utah border with Idaho, alongside Bear Lake. This is the scenic route to Grand Teton and Yellowstone national parks.

WHAT YOU'LL SEE

- 500 million years of geology and extensive national forests
- Abundant wildlife, trailheads and stunning autumn foliage
- Turquoise waters and diverse water sports at Bear Lake

STOPPING POINTS

- Logan's local dining, coffee and culture
- Tony Grove Nature Trail, Beaver Mountain Resort
- Garden City diners and Bear Lake raspberry shakes

Matt Hage

Jay Dash Photography

TRAIL OF THE ANCIENTS

THE DRIVE: 500-650+ kilometres | 8-10 hours

Packed with scenic vistas and cultural intrigue, the sunburst-shaped byway encounters numerous examples of Ancestral Puebloan history in the Four Corners and Bears Ears area.

GETTING THERE

U.S. 191, Blanding to Monument Valley Navajo Tribal Park or west to Natural Bridges; Bluff to Hovenweep with options east into Colorado and south into Arizona on U.S. 162 and 163.

WHAT YOU'LL SEE

- Impressive canyons, pioneer heritage and archaeology
- 11 percent grade of Moki Dugway switchbacks (RV size limits)
- Stunning geology of the Valley of the Gods
- Monumental sandstone buttes and Indigenous art

STOPPING POINTS

- Edge of the Cedars State Park Museum and Bluff Fort
- Goulding's Lodge, Monument Valley Navajo Tribal Park
- Cliff dwellings of Bears Ears and Hovenweep national monuments
- Goosenecks State Park and San Juan River expeditions

MIRROR LAKE

THE DRIVE: 89 kilometres | 1.5 hours (Utah section)

Head to the Uinta Mountains, an area known for vast wilderness across two national forests, hundreds of alpine lakes and Utah's highest peaks.

GETTING THERE

Twenty minutes east of Park City, take S.R. 150 from Kamas to the Wyoming border. The drive accesses a 3,262-metre pass and abundant recreation. Fees for forest use. Winter closures.

WHAT YOU'LL SEE

- Pristine meadows, serene lakes and rugged peaks
- Deer, moose, wild turkeys, eagles, even bighorn sheep
- Continue 37 kilometres more to end in Evanston, Wyoming

STOPPING POINTS

- Samak for provisions, Upper Provo River Falls
- Bald Mountain, Christmas Meadows and other top trailheads
- Fishing, camping, picnicking and winter snowmobiling

Matt Morgan

Matt Hage

PATCHWORK PARKWAY

THE DRIVE: 82 kilometres | 1.5 hours

Steeped in Mormon pioneer heritage, this high-elevation drive between 1,800 and 3,200 metres accesses Utah's highest mountain resort and high-contrast scenery.

GETTING THERE

S.R. 143 is accessible from either I-15 at Parowan, north of Cedar City, or U.S. 89 from Panguitch, near Bryce Canyon.

WHAT YOU'LL SEE

- Vermillion Cliffs and Cedar Breaks National Monument
- Multiple interpretive points of a historic Mormon journey
- Colourful aspens and maples of the Dixie National Forest

STOPPING POINTS

- Year-round outdoor recreation, dining and spa at Brian Head
- Camping and fishing at Panguitch Lake
- Panguitch, on the National Register of Historic Places

KNOW BEFORE YOU GO

Utah's amenity-rich cities on the metropolitan Wasatch Front can gear you up for wherever your Utah travels take you, and there are towns and cities throughout the state with food, fuel, supplies and other resources to ensure you can travel safely between destinations. Still, the more you consider what you'll need in advance, the less likely you'll be surprised by the unexpected. Here are a few tips to consider before your trip.

Elevation: Most adventures in Utah start at more than 1,200 metres above sea level, and some areas in national parks and in the mountains can reach up to 3,000 to 4,000 metres. To prevent altitude sickness, don't do strenuous activities on your first couple of days so your body can adjust, know your limits and take it slow.

Hydration: Staying hydrated is key any time of year in the arid, high desert country of Utah and especially when outside recreating. Many parks have places to refill your water bottles, but on longer road trips or more remote areas, carry extra. A quick rule of thumb is that you should expect to consume one litre of water or more per hour in hot weather.

Food: When recreating, opt for nutrient dense snacks like jerky, trail mix, dried fruit, canned fish, tuna pouches, nuts and nut butters — don't worry, though, most great Utah outdoor adventures and destinations are near excellent base camps with several local options for a hot meal.

Clothing and shoes: One of the most important keys for clothing is layers. Opt for a lightweight, long-sleeve base layer even when the summer sun is shining. When hiking, wear sturdy, closed-toe hiking boots that you've broken in to protect your feet and provide traction.

Gear: Carry necessary gear with you in a backpack: trail snacks, extra water, sunscreen, jacket or layers to add or remove and a bag to carry out your trash. If you're travelling far from the road and trailhead, carry first-aid materials just in case — and let someone know where you're going and when to expect you back.

Seasons: Utah is a four-season destination. The arid, high-elevation climate means long stretches of brilliant summer sun with sporadic bouts of rain. In November–March, temperatures are cooler. The hottest months are June–August. In Southern Utah, summer and early autumn are “monsoon season” and can bring threatening thunderstorms, pounding rains and flash floods. Snow is possible at all elevations in winter, but particularly at higher elevation passes and destinations. visitutah.com/weather

Driving: Thanks to a crossroads of interstates with great scenic byways, it's easy to get around Utah. It can be several hours between destinations, so keep an eye on fuel levels and plan your itinerary to avoid drowsy driving or driving in inclement weather. Some canyons require snow tires or chains in winter and some roads close for the winter. visitutah.com/roads

Backcountry: Venturing into Utah's backcountry — meaning recreation areas further from common amenities, such as restrooms, marked trails and visitor centres — is a rewarding endeavor for experienced, well-prepared adventurers. These areas often require a permit. Stop at the nearest visitor centres or ranger stations, check weather and road conditions and follow all backcountry ethics.

Go with a guide: Not only can guides get you there safely, they often take you and your family to places only accessible with a permit and the right gear. Guided hiking trips can vary from half-day hiking clinics to backpacking expeditions lasting a week or more. visitutah.com/guides

Adaptive travel: Utah has several organisations working together to advocate and offer specialised recreation plans through the use of adaptive equipment, trained staff and scholarships. Discover cycling, paddlesports, indoor/outdoor climbing, horseback riding, mountain biking, river-rafting, skiing, snowboarding, yurt camping and many more. Families and friends are encouraged to participate. visitutah.com/accessible
